FRIDAY November 6

Art is everywhere. And not in a “if you look at trees the right way, they too are art” kind of way. Just in the way that we’re lucky to have an abundance of pop-up art shows, like sculptor David Baskin’s. In cooperation with the Brookfield, his “Construct” show uses pedestals to turn a building lobby into a colorful maze. Today is your last day to check it out, so go before it turns back into a regular, unexciting building lobby again. Grace Building lobby, 1114 Avenue of the Americas, 8 a.m.-6 p.m., artsbrookfield.com/event/construct-2/, free.
