

Adam Brent's artwork has been exhibited at such notable museums, institutions, and galleries as The Bronx Museum for Contemporary Art, The Islip Museum, El Museo Del Barrio, Jamaica Flux 2016, The Mattatuck Museum, The New Museum's Festival of Ideas, Aljira Center for Contemporary Art, Slag Gallery, Artists Space New Haven, Auxiliary Projects, Apex Art, Margaret Thatcher Projects, Gathering of The Tribes, Wave Hill, BRIC Rotunda, Momenta Gallery, The Bronx River Art Center, The New York Department of Transportation's Urban Art Program, The New York Public Library, The Center for Book Arts and The 2012 Venice Architecture Biennale. Additionally, he has attended notable residences such as Artists In the Marketplace at the Bronx Museum, Emerge at the Aljira Center for Contemporary Arts in Newark NJ, The DNA artist residency in Provincetown MA, and the Soaring Gardens Artist Retreat. His work has been featured in Volta NY, Pulse Miami, and Art Untitled, Miami. He has received grants from such institutions as the Greater New York Arts Development Fund, and the New York Foundation for Contemporary Art. Brent sits on the NYC Department of Transportation's Urban Art Advisory board. He is an Associate Professor of Fine Arts and Associate Dean for Full-time Faculty at Parsons School of Design.